

Arts News

Saturday/Sunday - April 5th & 6th

Trump administration sued by 21 states' attorneys general for trying to eliminate Institute of Museum and Library Services

From life on the streets of London to successful artist

St. Peter's Basilica to exhibit Veronica's Veil on April 6

Colorado artist denies trying to distort Trump in portrait

Waking up with a Banksy on your wall: The differing fortunes of two homeowners

SHOW OPENER "Ruth Asawa: Retrospective" at San Francisco Museum of Modern Art April 5, 2025–September 2, 2025

SHOW OPENER "Painting after Painting" at S.M.A.K. Ghent, Belgium April 5, 2025–November 2, 2025

SHOW OPENER Tatiana Trouvé at Palazzo Grassi, Venice April 6, 2025–January 4, 2026

Monday - April 7th

'We are in uncharted territory': Trump's tariffs scramble art trade

National Parks Service Alters Webpages on Jim Crow, Slavery, and Harriet Tubman After Trump DEI Order

Amber Ruffin, cut from White House correspondents dinner, will host PEN America gala

Turmoil at Bavarian state museums as director quits and state prosecutor investigates

Are Prints Booming? Two New York Fairs Show the Medium's Strength in the Market

Climate Change Is Ushering in an "Age of Disability"

Sotheby's Offers Free Valuations to English Councils, Raising Suspicion

Japanese American National Museum Doubles Down on DEI Initiatives as its Federal Funding Hangs in the Balance

3-Year-Old Finds 3,800-Year-Old Egyptian Amulet Outside Jerusalem

Babies welcome! Museums as safe spaces for mothers

Public sculpture destroyed in apparent arson attack in Toronto

Why five years after the pandemic, art fairs are still in recovery

YouTube sensation MrBeast was given 'unrestricted access' to the pyramids—Egyptologists say it's a good thing

Jeu de Paume puts on wide-ranging survey of work created by artists

working with artificial intelligence

Tuesday - April 8th

Climate Activist Who Targeted Degas Sculpture Found Guilty of 'Crime Against the United States'

Portrait Artist Called 'Truly the Worst' by Trump Says Her Career is Threatened

New York Developer Is Hoping Proposed Democracy Museum Puts Its Casino Plan over the Top

Patients can be prescribed visits to Emily Carr exhibition under new Vancouver Art Gallery mental health initiative

Anselm Kiefer's Amsterdam Blockbuster Pits Art Against Despair

'I thought I wouldn't be here' - David Hockney on his biggest ever exhibition

National Gallery of Art marking 250th anniversary of US with loans to ten museums across the country

Fire Decimates Douglas Coupland Sculpture in Toronto Park

Global art sales plummeted by 12% in 2024, latest Art Basel/UBS report finds

Top 200 Collectors Bernard Arnault, Alice Walton and Jeff Bezos Lose Billions Again After Major Stock Sell-Offs

Art Basel UBS Report Shows Cooling on Global Art Market's High End: A Tale of Two Segments

Julia Michalska appointed as Global Editor-in-Chief and Benjamin Sutton as Editor-in-Chief, Americas of The Art Newspaper

'I am glad you are recording what they have done to me': portraits from Belsen concentration camp among exhibits in London anniversary show
National Gallery of Art marking 250th anniversary of US with loans to ten museums across the country

Fragments of Masterpiece Tomb of Renaissance-Era Spanish Duke Were Found in the Garbage Dump

This Nigerian artist redefines African art

Tatiana Trouvé and Thomas Schütte have taken over Pinault's Venetian galleries: here are the works not to miss

Artist Umar Rashid on Curating a Robert Colescott Show for Blum LA

Your brain looks like this on abstract art

Union and association representing museum and library workers sue Trump administration

Taymour Grahne Projects to Open New Gallery in Dubai This September

Wednesday - April 9th

The 'forgotten Monet' finally getting her moment

Climate activist found guilty of 'defacing' Degas sculpture at US National

Gallery of Art

National Gallery of Art to Loan Works from Its Permanent Collection to Museums Across the Country

Museum and Library Union Launches Legal Battle Against White House to Stop Cuts

Max Kozloff, Influential Art Critic Who Augured a Turn Away from Formalism, Dies at 91

Christie's to Sell Treasured Artworks Picked by Tiqui Atencio and Ago Demirdjian

Women Artists Report Facing Underrepresentation, Career Setbacks, According to Anonymous Was a Woman Survey

In the Brazilian savanna, the artist Dalton Paula is building a different kind of art school

BBC unveils restored sculpture by artist and sexual abuser Eric Gill

OpenAI CEO Sam Altman Continues to Completely Miss the Point With AI Art

Artist Daniel Arsham Sues Rapper Quavo in Copyright Case

SHOW OPENER "David Hockney 25" at Fondation Louis Vuitton, Paris April 9, 2025–August 31, 2025

Thursday - April 10th

Artists and art historians join boycott of Columbia University

The Broad breaks ground on its $100m expansion

Billionaire collector Thomas Kaplan to sell Rembrandt lion drawing to raise funds for wildlife conservation

Is Macron's grand vision for the Louvre just a fantasy?

Jeu de Paume puts on wide-ranging survey of work created by artists working with artificial intelligence

RedNote and TikTok: what is social media like in the Chinese art world?

Poet Yusef Komunyakaa to receive honorary Anisfeld-Wolf Award

Florida art dealer and another man charged in scheme to sell fake Andy Warhol artworks

Mutter Museum's 'Polarizing' Executive Director Kate Quinn Is Out

BBC House's Restored Sculpture by Artist and Sexual Abuser Eric Gill Goes Back on View

David Altmejd on his Tour-de-Force Surrealist Serpent

Dali Museum Produces Salvador Dali's Once-Lost Screenplay With Google's New Generative Video Platform

The Lost Capital of the Kingdom of Lyncestis May Have Been Found Among North Macedonian Ruins

Art Dubai Prepares to Open 18th Edition Amid Major Local Growth in High Net Worth Individuals

After Years of Figurative Painting, Abstraction Roars Back in New York's Galleries Better Than Ever

Abel Rodríguez, Artist Whose Drawings of Plants Became a Hit at Biennials, Has Died

SHOW OPENER "Five Friends: John Cage, Merce Cunningham, Jasper Johns, Robert Rauschenberg, Cy Twombly" at Museum Brandhorst, Munich April 10, 2025–August 17, 2025

Friday - April 11th

Trump administration will use humanities grant money to build patriotic sculpture park

Trump's Sculpture Garden of 'American Heroes' Moves Ahead with NEH Funding

Pierre Terjanian named next director of MFA Boston

Qatar Names Lina Ghotmeh as Architect for Forthcoming National Pavilion in Venice

Museum of Fine Arts Boston Names Current Conservation Head Pierre Terjanian as Next Director and CEO

CASETiFY Joins Forces with Takashi Murakami to Celebrate One of the Artist's Most Beloved Characters

Influential Berlin Gallery Peres Projects Placed Under Insolvency

Venice Biennale 2026: The Netherlands and Lithuania reveal artists

Conservation on mysterious Vermeer painting reveals it may have been his final work

Warhol electric chair canvas could bring $30m during New York auction season

Dallas Art Fair offers first test of collectors' appetites amid Trump's trade war

So long, stag parties: Barcelona banks on art to tempt 'quality' tourists

How Walton Ford's Loudest Paintings Redirect Your Gaze

Monumental Ruins Emerge Following Massive Myanmar Earthquake

Fondation Louis Vuitton Makes a Big Splash with David Hockney's Largest Exhibition Ever

SHOW OPENER "Bas Jan Ader: I'm Searching..." at Hamburger Kunsthalle, Germany April 11, 2025–August 24, 2025

SHOW OPENER "Kim Chong Hak, Painter of Seoraksan" at High Museum of Art, Atlanta April 11, 2025–November 2, 2025

